

Copyright protection is an infringement of customer's rights.
Aren't customer's already paying for the TV when they pay their cable or satellite bill? If someone wants to record what is on TV (and already paid for) then they should be able to!